

Speaker: Bio: Neha Sahdev

Neha Sahdev is the product line manager, for unconventional, for Pinnacle Halliburton. As part of the job she is focused on delivering value from diagnostics to operators geared towards making changes to improve the returns from the asset. Prior to this, she was leading the fiber optics analytics development team. She and her team focused on innovation in distributed sensing analyses space and developing applications helping accelerate the learning curve. Throughout her career she has had diverse experience in terms of geography (worked in India, Canada, Oman, Malaysia, US), development types (EOR/Unconventional/Mature fields), for both offshore and onshore development. She joined the oilfield in 2006, after graduating as a Chemical Engineer from Indian Institute of Technology, Madras – India.